

Middle and High School Students in New Hampshire-
A Journal in which to publish your writing!

Middle/High School Voices

2010

Voices From the Center, a publication of Plymouth State University, is compiling its twelfth volume. This year we are again soliciting writing from high school and middle school students in New Hampshire. We are looking for fiction, essays, poetry, and narrative, which speak to the core or essence of our experience of life. Voices from the Center was created in 1995 as a place where writers and artists could deal with “taboo” topics, and a safe place to tell their stories. For the past seven years, the publication has been coordinated in conjunction with English education majors, in association with the Plymouth Writers Group. Middle/High School Voices is dedicated to the publication of middle school and high school writers. We are planning to invite authors of accepted pieces, as well as their teachers, to our writing conference in May at Plymouth State University.

Pieces chosen for Middle/High School Voices will be published at no charge. Copies are free to all published authors, their teachers, and school libraries. The publication will also be available for viewing online. You can view copies of previous editions on line at <http://www.plymouth.edu/pwp/voices.html>.

Please email your manuscript to the address below. Manuscripts may be up to 3,000 words in length and single-spaced (approximately 5 pages maximum). The author’s name, address (including e-mail address), telephone number, sending school, grade and sponsoring teacher’s name should be included on a title page, but not on the manuscripts. We will accept only up to three submissions from each author, so meet with your teacher and select your best work. Send to middlehighschool.voices@gmail.com

Deadline: Submissions must be received no later than March 5th, 2010 in order to be considered. You will receive acknowledgement of receipt by e-mail. Final decisions will be made on or before April 15, 2010. Authors will be contacted regarding accepted submissions.

A program sponsored by
PLYMOUTH Writing PROJECT
www.plymouth.edu/pwp

Direct queries to: megp@mail.plymouth.edu