#whatcanyoudowithanenglishmajor?

Naomi Pariseault – ‘09

Major: English
Concentration: Literature
Minor: Music

After graduation, Naomi went to URI for an MA in English and an MLIS (Library Science). She now works at the New England College of Business as an instructional technologist. She designs the courses with the faculty, helps manage their LMS, helps with the library technologies, and manages the eBooks and Textbook Center. The Textbook Center was a project she designed and built and it won the 2014 ACHE Creative Use of Technology Award. She also teaches as an adjunct as often as she can, teaching information literacy/research courses.