

The Plymouth State University English Department, with support from the University Bookstore and PSU Alumni Relations, presents a poetry reading and book-signing by

IVY PAGE & ETHAN PAQUIN

NOVEMBER 21, 7:00PM, FROST COMMONS
PLYMOUTH STATE UNIVERSITY

Ethan Paquin received his MFA in Poetry from the University of Massachusetts-Amherst. He is the author of Cloud vs. Cloud (Ahsahta Press, 2013) as well as four other books of poems. His creative writing and criticism/commentary have appeared in publications including The Colorado Review, The Boston Review, New American Writing, Quarterly West, Verse, Esquire.com, The Wall Street Journal, Canadian Review of Books, and Meanjin (Australia). Paquin is the founding editor of the longstanding online literary journal Slope (www.slope.org), and is co-founder and director of the nonprofit small poetry press, Slope Editions.

Ivy Page holds an MFA in Poetry from New England College. Her first book, Any Other Branch (Salmon Poetry) was released at the 2013 AWP conference where it sold out. Her work has appeared in journals such as Night Train, Poetry Quarterly, Grey Sparrow Press, Boston Literary Magazine, The Houston Literary Review, Midwest Literary Magazine and New Plains Review, among others. Her work has also been anthologized in Knocking at the Door: Approaching the Other. She is the editor and founder of Organs of Vision and Speech Magazine. For more information visit her website: www.poeticentanglement.com

BOOKS AVAILABLE FOR PURCHASE
COMPLIMENTARY LIGHT REFRESHMENTS