Join us for the second in a series of retreats.

NWPNH believes we are all writers and that the best teachers of writing are those who write themselves. This year, we're pleased to offer teacher-writers one-day writing retreats facilitated by NWPNH staff.

We provide a writing activity, dedicated writing time, small response groups -- and lunch. We reflect on the next steps in our writing and in our teaching. There are Professional Development Hours available through PSU.

Cost: $45 for one person. You and a colleague for $80. You + two guests for $100.

Please send your registration and a check made out to Plymouth State University to:
