TO THE PLYMOUTH STATE UNIVERSITY CLASS OF 2026

FROM THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

As the academic year comes to a close, we are honored to join in celebrating the remarkable accomplishments of the Class of 2026. On behalf of the Board of Trustees, please accept our warmest congratulations on reaching this important milestone.

Commencement represents more than the completion of a degree—it reflects years of dedication, resilience, curiosity, and growth. Each of you has navigated challenges, embraced opportunities, and demonstrated a commitment to learning that will serve you well in the years ahead. Your achievements are a testament to your perseverance and to the strength of the communities that supported you along the way.

We extend our sincere gratitude to the families, friends, faculty, and staff who have played a vital role in this journey. Your guidance, encouragement, and belief in our graduates have helped make this moment possible. Today is a celebration not only of individual success, but of the collective effort that defines our institution.

As you move forward into the next chapter of your lives, we encourage you to carry with you the knowledge, values, and connections you have gained during your time here. Approach the future with confidence, purpose, and a willingness to lead and serve. Remember that you remain part of a community that is proud of you and committed to your continued success.

Congratulations to the Class of 2026. We wish you every success and fulfillment in the paths you choose to pursue.

Warm regards,
Michael J. Pilot, Chair
Board of Trustees
University System of New Hampshire

FROM THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

To the Class of 2026, on behalf of the Plymouth State University Alumni Association, congratulations on this remarkable achievement.

Plymouth State is a truly special place—a community where lasting friendships are formed, meaningful memories are created, and shared experiences shape who you become. While your time as a student may have passed quickly, the impact of these years will remain with you always. As you take this next step, it's natural to feel both excitement and uncertainty. Trust in what you've learned, lean on the friendships you've built, and remember that you are never alone.

As a proud graduate of Plymouth State College, Class of 2000, and a member of the Alumni Association Board of Directors since 2018, I have remained deeply connected to a place that continues to mean so much to me. Plymouth State thrives because of the lifelong relationships formed here and the dedication of those who continue to support this extraordinary community.

Now, as Plymouth State alumni, you join a network that extends far beyond campus—one that spans states and generations, yet remains united by shared experiences and Panther pride. Your time at PSU will always be an important part of your story, and the memories you've made here will guide and inspire you in the years ahead.

We invite you to stay connected—by sharing your time, your talents, and your support—to help ensure that future generations of Plymouth State students have the same opportunities to learn, grow, and thrive.

Welcome to the Plymouth State alumni community.

Congratulations and good luck,
Michelle Monahan Harvell '00
Chair, PSUAA Alumni Association Board of Directors

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Congratulations Class of 2026! It's clear that the world is on the cusp of great change and the opportunities that await you are the most exciting they have been in more than 50 years.

Your college years have been influenced by profound events involving national and international affairs, health and social issues, and economic and environmental concerns. Through it all, you've shown great mental toughness and compassion by working together and helping one another through crisis. This is on top of your academic studies, volunteering on campus and in the community, and the many activities and events that have reenergized PSU. Plymouth State University is so proud of your many accomplishments.

Here at Plymouth State University, you've provided a model that the world can learn from. Being flexible in the face of changing circumstances, collaborating to bring diverse talents and viewpoints into the mix, and innovating to advance scholarly and professional pursuits have been key to what you've accomplished on our campus. You've faced adversity and have proven yourself worthy to the test.

You have earned the right to stake your claim as tomorrow's leaders and have the tools to be successful. Events are changing the shape of the world, and you must engage in recreating a new world model. You will enjoy increased options on where and how you work and will have more liberty to be creative, to work for yourself, and to impact the work environment. You are well equipped to take advantage of these opportunities and will have a larger voice, so have the confidence to move forward!

Wherever your dreams may take you, remember that you will always have a welcoming home here in Plymouth. As graduates you have joined an active and supportive group of 40,000+ fellow alumni. The Panther family is an asset that you'll have throughout your life, and I encourage you to take advantage of our alumni networking and mentorship opportunities.

Your future awaits and we can't wait to hear about your accomplishments. We are extremely proud of all of you. Congratulations, and our very best wishes for future success and happiness!

A TRADITION STEEPED IN HISTORY

The Academic Procession is a descendant of European religious processions, which began to include teaching faculties in the Middle Ages, when universities were closely associated with the medieval church.

The order used in today's procession has evolved through many years of practice at Plymouth State University. At the front of the line is the faculty marshal, who will carry the University mace, a symbol of authority and unity. The marshal will be followed in the procession by four flag bearers, the president of Plymouth State University, the provost, members of the University System Board of Trustees, honored guests, speakers, vice presidents, and senior class officers. This group is followed by the faculty, who march in order of rank. The faculty is followed by the degree candidates.

THE MACE

The tradition of the academic mace began in the late fourteenth century when two ancient instruments, the royal scepter and the battle mace, were combined to form a symbol of authority of the rector of a university. Today, the academic mace, along with the presidential medallion, signifies that the president of the university is the temporary embodiment of the power, authority, and autonomy vested in the institution.

The faculty marshal carries the academic mace at public events such as Commencement exercises and convocations as a symbol of the special stewardship authority and trust reposed in the faculty for the curriculum and academic affairs of the university. The PSU mace was designed and created by Professor Emeritus of Sculpture Philip Lonergan in 2004.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion is the official insignia of the President's Office and is worn on ceremonial occasions. Created when Plymouth State became a university, the medallion embodies parts of the official seal of the University, showing pictorial representations of Rounds Hall, the Old Man of the Mountain, the lamp of enlightenment, and our connection to the outdoors.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The caps, gowns, and hoods seen today have evolved from costumes worn during early religious processions to distinguish church and university members from the laity. In present times, the attire serves to indicate, by style and adornment, the chief academic degree attained, the major field of study, and the college or university attended by the wearer.

THE GOWN

The modern academic costume worn in the United States is based on an intercollegiate code established in 1895. Most gowns are black, but more American colleges and universities now permit the wearing of college colors. The associate's gown and the bachelor's gown are the same. They have long, pointed sleeves, and are untrimmed and worn closed. The master's gown, worn either open or closed, has long, crescent-shaped sleeves. The doctoral gown has black velvet panels down the front, and velvet bars on bell-shaped sleeves.

THE CAP

The customary head covering is either the mortarboard or the Oxford cap. The tassel on the mortarboard cap may be black or of a color indicating the degree. The doctor's tassel is usually gold in color. The tassel is worn over the left front quarter of the mortarboard once the degree has been awarded.

THE HOOD

The hood, which drapes over the back of the gown, carries the greatest symbolism of all the components of the academic costume, and dates back to the twelfth century when it was intended as a head cover or shoulder cape. Its length and width denote the wearer's highest academic achievement.

The color of the velvet trim reveals the wearer's major field of study. Linings, which are exposed in the center of the hood as it lies over the back of the gown, indicate the colors of the degree-granting institution.

THE COLORS

In regalia, academic disciplines are noted by color. These colors can be found on undergraduate and master's tassels and on master's and doctoral hoods on the velvet edging.

Field of Study	Velvet Trim Colors
Agriculture	Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Business Administration	Drab (Tan)
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Fine Arts	Brown
Forestry	Russet
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Philosophy	Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Physical Therapy	Teal
Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Public Health	Salmon
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Work	Citron

THE CORD AND STOLE

Cords, medallions, or colored tassels may be worn by some members of academic honor societies to signify their achievements. The standards for this distinction are set by each honor society. The cords are worn around the neck and drape down the front of the gown.

Veterans, active duty personnel, and ROTC students may wear a red, white, and blue cord to acknowledge their service to our country.

Members of several student organizations, University programs, and student athletes may also wear a stole in recognition of that involvement. The stole may be adorned with the emblem(s) of the organization(s) in which the student has participated.

PSU's international students may choose to wear a stole or lapel pin displaying the flag of their home countries. This year features graduate and undergraduate students from Canada, France, Pakistan, and Sweden.

THE HONORS TASSEL

Green and white tassels distinguish honors baccalaureate graduates. Summa cum laude is granted to a graduate with a GPA of 3.75–4.0. Magna cum laude is granted to a graduate with a GPA of 3.50–3.74. Cum laude is granted to a graduate with a GPA of 3.25–3.49.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Richard (Dick) Ober

Richard (Dick) Ober leads the New Hampshire Charitable Foundation, the largest private provider of nonprofit grants and student aid in northern New England. The Foundation manages more than $1 billion in charitable funds donated by families and individuals and awards approximately 8,000 grants and scholarships totaling more than $70 million annually.

Dick has more than 40 years of experience in nonprofit management and civic affairs. Before coming to the Foundation, he held senior staff positions at the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests and the Monadnock Conservancy. He has served on numerous nonprofit boards and public commissions, including several gubernatorial appointments.

Dick is the co-founder and past chair of the Community Foundation Opportunity Network (CFON) and a past chair of CFLeads. He has also served on the board of directors for the Center for Effective Philanthropy.

He has written and lectured widely on community philanthropy, civic life, and the connections between people and the places they live. His work has been published in books, magazines, and journals. He has received awards from the Environmental Protection Agency, the State of New Hampshire, and Plymouth State University, and has been named among the state's most influential people by New Hampshire business publications.

Dick lives with his wife and daughter in Dublin, New Hampshire.

GRADUATE STUDENT SPEAKER

Madison Senecal

Madison Senecal received her Bachelor of Science degree, summa cum laude, in Exercise and Sport Physiology here at Plymouth State. She became interested in strength and conditioning before coming to college, and her interest grew the summer before her senior year when she was an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach at a gym back home. Her undergraduate studies focused on the effects of strength asymmetries on athletic performance and social media's portrayal of fitness competitions and their role in exercise adherence.

After graduating from Plymouth State last spring, Senecal returned to Plymouth to pursue her Master's in Applied Exercise Physiology and Human Performance. During this time, she has worked with the Head Strength and Conditioning Coach at The Holderness School for her graduate internship to gain experience working with high school athletes, preparing them for their college aspirations. She has also participated in two of her classmates' graduate thesis projects, testing feelings on exertion and emotion during exercise, and the effect of self-selected music on predicting repetitions in reserve.
